

2025 年高考考前适应性测试
英语参考答案

第一部分 听力

1-5 CABBC                      6-10 BCACB                      11-15 CAABA                      16-20 BBCAA

第二部分 阅读

21-23 BCC                      24-27 CADA                      28-31 BDAB                      32-35 ACDD                      36-40 GBDAC

第三部分 语言运用

第一节

41-45 BCAAD                      46-50 ADBCB                      51-55 CCDAB

第二节

56. a                      57. what                      58. added                      59. harmonious                      60. to unite
61. illustrating                      62. was drawn                      63. skillfully                      64. composition                      65. of

第四部分 写作

第一节

略。

第二节 One possible version (仅供参考)

With one final burst of strength, he managed to pull Clair to safety. Breaths of relief and cries of joy filled the air. Clair and Arya were reunited in a tearful embrace, their joy and relief overflowing. Clair grasped Tongai's hands tightly, her eyes full of gratitude, unable to find the right words. Tongai, tired as he was, managed a weak smile. Villagers brought warm blankets and helped the three of them to safety. The previously violent sea now touched gently at the shore, as if in respect for the heroism that had just happened.

Soon an article titled Heroism by the Sea was posted on the website. It detailed Tongai's brave actions during the day. The post instantly became very popular, with likes and shares increasing rapidly within moments. Comments flooded in, from local villagers to people from afar. Everyone praised Tongai's selfless courage, calling him a true hero. Brass Bell also commented, expressing pride in having such an outstanding employee. People from all over came to the Brass Bell, eager to meet the heroic bartender and hear the story straight from the source. Tongai, however, remained humble, insisting he had merely followed his natural reactions in the face of danger.